According to the company, "Kia" derives from the Hanja 키 (ki, 'to arise') and 아 (a, which stands for 아시아, meaning 'Asia'); it is roughly translated as 'rising from (East) Asia'. fdab78fbec It is the first Kia vehicle to be designed entirely in Europe and tailored to European customers. To mark the occasion, Kia took the initials of the European Economic Community, EEC or CEE in several languages and added ED for European Design. Realizing that "CEEED" had too many 'E's, they replaced the last 'E' with an apostrophe, with 'Cee'd' being the end result. Since 2018, the Ceed name no longer has an apostrophe. The initials now mean "Community of Europe, with European Design". The model is primarily made at the Kia Motors Slovakia assembly plant in Žilina. The Ceed replaced the Cerato which had little success in Europe. fdab78fbec The first-generation Carnival was introduced in January 1998, and was marketed in a single, short-wheelbase version. Second-generation models were marketed (2006–2014) in short and long wheelbase variants. A rebadged variant of the second generation was offered in North America as the Hyundai Entourage (2007–2009). Beginning in 2010, the second-generation model received updated equipment, including Kia's corporate Tiger Nose grille, as introduced by its then new design chief, Peter Schreyer. Kia introduced its third-generation minivan in 2014, solely in a long wheelbase format. fdab78fbec == First generation (NB; 1993) == fdab78fbec Source: fdab78fbec
