It was common for ancient furniture to have religious or symbolic purposes. The Incans had chacmools which were dedicated to sacrifice. Similarly, in Dilmun they had sacrificial altars. In many civilizations, certain types of furniture were reserved for upper-class citizens. Stools and thrones made for nobility in Ancient Egypt were made of fine imported wood, occasionally animal bone, and were painted, gilded, and inlaid with metals. In Mesopotamia, tables were decorated with expensive metals, chairs would be padded with felt, rushes, and upholstery. Some chairs had metal inlays. == History == Namdar's purchases... == History == However, The Macerich Company acquired the mall in January 2008, returning to the mall's original name, "The Shops at North Bridge." Because of their locations and current states, the malls are typically purchased in cash for around $5.3 million. Once acquired, properties' maintenance spending is substantially reduced (up to 67% less than other malls), and store rents are lowered to avoid low vacancy rates. The company will also often sell its malls' outparcels. Due to reduced maintenance and low acquisition costs, Namdar's capitalization rate averages 2-3 times that of a standard
