Ferzetti was born to actor Gabriele Ferzetti and Claudia Verdini. She attended private school in Germany. At the age of 11, she and her mother moved to London. At the age of 18, she left home to move to Rome. Before pursuing acting, she worked as a news agent, a waitress, a tour guide, a canoe instructor, and a pharmacy assistant. During the Christmas season of 1983, two families from Rome — the Covelli and the Marchetti — meet in Cortina d'Ampezzo. The Covelli family appears affluent and refined, although certain behaviors suggest a parvenu background. The family includes a mother, a father, two sons and a daughter. His first film as a director was A Sentimental Attempt (1963), along with Massimo Franciosa. Subsequently he made many films of the commedia all'italiana genre, including La Matriarca (1969), Secret Fantasy (1971), Jus primae noctis (1972) and The Sex Machine (1975), the latter is based on his novel with the same name. Born at Melfi, in the province of Potenza, he moved to Rome at young age. He started as a writer and literary critic. La nonna Sabella, one of his novels, was later adapted by Dino Risi into the movie of the same name, internationally known as Oh! Sabella (1957).

In the 1970s, Vitali became one of the major stars in the commedia sexy all'italiana genre. In the early 1980s, starting from Pierino contro tutti, he had a personal success in a series of films featuring Pierino, a Little John variation. During the same decade, his success began to decline, and opportunities to work became increasingly scarce. In the 2000s his career was briefly relaunched by the Canale 5 satirical show Striscia la notizia, where he portrayed a comic version of Jean Todt and other humorous characters. In 2006, he took part in the reality show La fattoria, the Italian version of The Farm, retiring soon after because of his asthma. 67191dee47 == Life and career == 67191dee47 == Early life == 67191dee47 The narrative follows the comedic interactions and misunderstandings that arise between the families.
