Tracy Beaker makes a dash for the door at every opportunity, whom Tracy convinces to stay at the Dumping Ground for a while. Tracy is back and living with Cam, and just Tracy Beaker is a fictional character, the lead (and longest-serving) character of the Tracy Beaker franchise. Harmer reprised her role as Tracy in the 2021 television series My Mum Tracy Beaker followed by The Beaker Girls. After first appearing as the main character in Jacqueline Wilson's 1991 book The Story of Tracy Beaker, she appeared in the children's television drama of the same name, portrayed by Dani Harmer, and its sequel series Tracy Beaker Returns, as well as numerous spin-offs, Jacqueline Wilson books, a play and a video game

Like its predecessors, the Morris Oxford for the 1960s was a four-cylinder mid-size family car. The Oxford Farina competed with cars such as the badge-engineered A55/A60 Austin Cambridge, the Singer Gazelle, the Vauxhall Victor, and the Ford Cortina. Mann did not cooperate with the first officers who arrived at the scene. Mann's family describes him as "doing karate moves and zigzagging back and forth across the street as he tried to walk away from the officers." The initial responding officers ordered Mann to drop his knife, and get on the ground. He did not comply, and instead threw a thermos at the police cruiser, and shouted threats as he walked down Del Paso Boulevard. Police received 9-1-1 calls about a man standing in the street waving a knife. Dispatchers told police that Mann had a knife and gun, and that he was acting erratically. Mann was carrying a 4-inch knife when police encountered him, but no gun was ever found. == Oxford Series V (1959–1961) == The Ford EB Falcon and Holden VP Commodore were both homologated with new aerodynamic packages, the Falcon gaining controversial protrusions from its front splitter.
