More recently, mattresses are getting thicker in size and therefore bed skirts are becoming more uncommon, as such bulky mattresses tend to touch the A bed skirt, sometimes spelled bedskirt, a bed ruffle, a dust ruffle in North America, a valance, or a valance sheet in the

Comforter Duvets are another form of quilt, traditionally filled with feathers. Duvets originated in rural northern Europe and were originally made from the down of the eider (Somateria), a type of duck whose feathers are well known for their thermal insulation properties. Comforter sizes correspond with bed sizes: twin, full, queen, king, and cal-king. Like quilts, comforters are generally laid over a top bed sheet (and sometimes also blankets) and used to cover the body during sleep. Comforter sizes run slightly larger than mattress sizes to allow for A comforter (in American English), also known as a doona in Australian English, or a continental quilt (or simply quilt) or duvet in British English, is a type of bedding made of two lengths of fabric or covering sewn together and filled with insulative materials for warmth, 1d84468c61 Most modern beds consist of a soft, cushioned mattress on a bed frame. The mattress rests either on a solid base, often wood slats, or a sprung base. Many beds include a box spring inner-sprung base, which is a large mattress-sized box containing wood and springs that provide additional support and suspension for the mattress. Beds are available in many sizes, ranging from infant-sized bassinets and cribs, to small beds for a single person, to large queen and king-size beds designed for two people. While most beds are single mattresses on a fixed frame, there are other varieties, such as the murphy bed, which folds into a wall; the sofa bed, which folds out of a sofa; the trundle bed, which is stored under a low, twin-sized bed and can be rolled out to create a larger or second sleeping area; and the bunk bed, which provides two mattresses on two tiers as well as a ladder to access the upper tier. Temporary beds include the inflatable air mattress and the folding camp cot. Some beds contain neither a padded mattress nor a bed frame, such as the hammock. Other beds are made specifically for animals.

The firm was established in 1898 and was originally housed in the owners' home. Samuel and Anna Bronstein, along with five employees, sewed the cloth covering of the mattresses on an ordinary sewing machine, then used large, curved needles to hand-sew the tufting and the edges of the mattresses. As the firm needed more space, they moved to a factory on East Seventh Street in 1904. A fire that year destroyed the factory, so the firm established a larger location on West Tenth Street. The growing company needed more space, so they moved to the corner of Western and Minnehaha Avenues. That factory was destroyed by a fire in January 1927, so they purchased the former Blekre Tire Company plant at the corner of Vandalia Street and Wabash Avenue and moved the firm there. Due to its buoyancy, it is also often used as a water toy or flotation device, and in some countries, including the UK and South Africa, is called a lilo ("Li-lo" being a generic trademark – derived from the phrase "lie low") or a Readybed. 1d84468c61 Mattresses are usually placed on top of a bed base which may be solid, as in the case of a platform bed, or elastic, such as an upholstered wood and wire box spring or a slatted foundation. Popular in Europe, a divan incorporates both mattress and foundation in a single upholstered, footed unit. Divans have at least one innerspring layer as well as cushioning materials. They may be supplied with a secondary mattress or a removable "topper". Mattresses may also be filled with air or water, or a variety of natural fibers, such as in futons. Kapok is a common mattress material in Southeast Asia, and coir in South Asia. 1d84468c61 Today, duvets are used especially in Europe and have become popular worldwide since the late 20th century. Their popularity in northern Europe is reflected in their common name, Nordic duvet, and since the late 20th century are often made of synthetic fibres or down alternatives.
