However, the meaning of the term purple is not well defined. There is confusion about the meaning of the terms purple and violet even among native speakers of English. Many native speakers of English in the United States refer to the blue-dominated spectral color beyond blue as purple, but the same color is referred to as violet by many native English speakers in the United Kingdom. The full range of colors between red and blue is referred to by the term purple in some British authoritative texts, whereas the same range of colors is referred to by the term violet in some other texts. 199c1c5e45

Hospital emergency codes The use of codes is intended to convey essential information quickly and with minimal misunderstanding to staff while preventing stress and panic among visitors to the hospital. Such codes are sometimes posted on placards throughout the hospital or are printed on employee identification badges for ready reference. casualty incident Code purple: hostage situation Code red: fire Code white: violence/aggression Code yellow: missing patient Code 66: rapid medical intervention Hospital emergency codes are coded messages often announced over a public address system of a hospital to alert staff to various classes of on-site emergencies 199c1c5e45

Hospital emergency codes have varied widely by location, even between hospitals in the same community. Confusion over these codes has led to the proposal for and sometimes adoption of standardised codes. In many American, Canadian, and Australian hospitals, for example "code blue" indicates a patient has entered cardiac arrest, while "code red" indicates that a fire has broken out somewhere in the hospital. 199c1c5e45 In formal color theory, purple colors often refer to the colors on the... 199c1c5e45
