Ivan Milat Milat is also suspected of having committed many other similar offences around Australia, some dating as far back as 1962. Her dress had been Ivan Robert Marko Milat (Croatian: [ivan marko milat]; 27 December 1944 – 27 October 2019), commonly referred to in media as the Backpacker Murderer, was an Australian-Croatian serial killer who was convicted for the abduction, assault, robbery and murder of two men and five women in New South Wales between 1989 and 1992. Ten days later, Riley's body was discovered in isolated bushland off Waterford-Tamborine Road at Logan Village in southern Brisbane. His modus operandi was to approach backpackers along the Hume Highway under the guise of providing them transport to areas of southern New South Wales, then take his victims into the Belanglo State Forest where he would incapacitate and murder them 8a3b25df40

== History == 8a3b25df40 For most classes of vehicles, plates are issued in pairs, for the front and rear of the vehicle respectively, though single rear plates were issued between 1980 and 1987. Plates were validated with metal date tabs from 1937 through 1963, then with plate stickers until 2006, and finally with windshield stickers until 2010. Plate stickers continue to be used on plates for vehicles that do not have a windshield, or are part of fleets that frequently rotate plates among vehicles. All issues (including re-issues) since 2000 are currently valid.
